

I Achieve

The theme of last year's yearbook, "Breaking New Ground," emphasized the growth of Hinds Community College as seen in the external changes around campus—the expansion and upgrading of facilities to provide greater learning opportunities for students. This year's staff wanted to shift the focus from external improvement and explore ways that Hinds can exhibit achievement through meeting goals that are less tangible. The theme "I Achieve" challenges us to meet our educational goals as well as our life goals through the many opportunities for growth that Hinds offers.

Students this year have been pushed even more than in the past to consider graduating from Hinds. Such an achievement requires commitment in not only a single semester at Hinds but in an entire course of study over a period of years. Students dedicated to the goal of graduating will not only receive a degree but will develop a lifestyle of achievement that will last beyond their time at Hinds.

With this year's yearbook, we hope to inspire you to achieve your goals and to challenge yourself to achieve your goals in the future.

As you turn the pages of this book, please consider the ways that you have seen achievement happen at Hinds and consider how you can challenge yourself to achieve your goals in the future.

President's Message

Dear Hinds Community College students,

It has been a pleasure to serve as your college president this year. As you know, our goal is to provide a high quality college education to students who have a wide variety of educational goals. Perhaps Hinds is preparing you academically to continue your education at a four-year university, perhaps you are obtaining an associate's degree to equip you for your career goals or perhaps you are enrolled in short-term career certificate training to enhance your skills for the workforce. Regardless of the circumstances that have led you to one of our campuses, I hope that your experience has been challenging and satisfying.

Our college is honored to have been listed among the top 50 fastest-growing public two-year colleges by Community College Week for two years in a row. By choosing Hinds, you have helped us achieve this honor. However, with our growing numbers have come some new challenges. This year, we have tried to emphasize our desire to see even more of you finish your associate's degree or career certificate at Hinds. And you have responded! Our December 2011 graduation saw a 14% increase over the December graduation of the previous year. If you have not made plans to complete your degree here at Hinds, please consider doing so. The value of your community college credential can be significant in your job search or transfer to a four-year institution.

Another way that we are trying to meet challenges is by focusing on student retention. As our student population grows, we need to work even harder to identify the obstacles that prevent some students from completing their degrees or from returning to Hinds for the next semester. If finishing college is becoming a difficult chore for you, please take some time to develop a completion strategy for your educational goals so that we can help you attain them on a semester-by-semester basis. By working together, we will be able to see our number of graduates increase along with our number of students.

Of course, our campus facilities are also in a continuous state of improvement. You may have noticed that the Jackson—ATC campus has a new building, the Jobie Martin Classroom building, to help us accommodate our growing student population. Also, the Raymond campus is opening two new residence halls in fall 2012. We hope that these facilities further enhance your learning experiences at Hinds.

All in all, we hope you see that Hinds is constantly working to maintain high standards in all areas of instruction and campus life. We hope that you share with others the positive experiences that you have had with Hinds so that our student-centered, quality reputation in the state and nation will continue to grow.

Thank you,
Clyde Muse

Hinds CC offers more than 20 intramural sports activities throughout the year for students, faculty and staff. The activities range from beach volleyball, flag football and dodgeball in the fall to 5-on-5 basketball, ultimate frisbee and kickball in the spring. There is something for everyone to play.

In 2011, Hinds Community College celebrated the graduation of more than 1,100 students at the fall and summer commencement ceremonies, which were held on the Raymond Campus. On July 29, the summer ceremony included 131 associate degrees in Arts, 135 associate degrees in Applied Sciences, 80 Career Certificates and 55 Technical Certificates. The fall ceremony, held on December 15 and December 16, involved two keynote speakers: Dr. Tom Joiner, president of the MS State Medical Association and Rev. Cliff Nelson, retired director of counseling on the Raymond Campus. Dr. Joiner addressed the Nursing and Allied Health graduations while Rev. Nelson addressed the non-health related program graduates.

Destiny is not a matter of chance; it is a matter of choice. It is not a thing to be waited for; it is a thing to be achieved.

Acknowledgments

The 2012 yearbook was truly a team effort, and this page will credit some of the special help that Hinds students, faculty and staff contributed to this year's production.

The student yearbook staff worked many hours on the designing, photography, editing and submission process that goes into publishing a yearbook, and for that they deserve the first acknowledgment.

The athletics portions of this yearbook could not exist without the wonderful photography of Brian Emory and Bob Smith. Thanks to both of you.

Allison Winn and Mark Stanton, thank you for your help with Student Activities photography. And thank you so very much, David Hawkins, for your many event photos.

The yearbook staff hopes that readers cherish the memories they have made this year and remember them each time they look back at the 2012 yearbook.
